Important notice!!

In view of the latest news it is important to announce that the volcanic activities in Eyjafjallajökull causes no immediate threats to north Iceland. Dalvik is about 300 kilometers away from the volcano and Reykjavik is about 130 km away from it. The trouble lies in air travel which we trust is well monitored and guided by all authorities. Information on air travel in Europe can be found on: <https://www.cfm.eurocontrol.int/PUBPORTAL/gateway/spec/index.html>
